William and Mary To Have Glee Club

Plans are under way to form a Glee Club at the College of William and Mary. Dr. Crawford, Head of the Department of Fine Arts and an experienced singer, is to take charge of the organization and the training of the singers.

At the first meeting held last Friday night, Dr. Crawford discussed with the men the requisites which go to make a glee club a success, and emphasized that he was more than willing to do his part in helping the men to succeed, if only they will show enthusiasm in the work. He stated that he would rather have a few men who would show a steady interest than a large number whose interest would fluctuate.

Dr. Crawford voiced regret at the fact that there did not exist at the College a representative glee club, and said there was absolutely no reason why William and Mary should be without a club of this kind.

"A Glee Club," said Dr. Crawford, "is a splendid asset to an institution and helps greatly to keep up the spirit among the students. Show me a college that boasts of a well organized glee club and I will show you a place where there is a fine spirit among the students; again, show me an institution that has no organization of this kind, and I will show you a place which lacks a vital element of student activities."

Meetings of the Glee Club are held from seven to eight o'clock on Tuesday and Friday nights, in the College Chapel. All men who have not yet attended the meetings are urged to be present. Try-outs will be given to prospective candidates.

First Co-Ed Dance Given

The first dance given by the German Club was held in the Gymnasium of Jefferson Hall on Tuesday evening, November 7, from 8:30 to 1. The music was furnished by Jan Garber and his Garber-Davis Orchestra, who are well known and loved at William and Mary.

Miss Bettie Woodward, President of the German Club, appointed the floor committee, which was composed of Misses Marjory Chappell, Florence Holston, and Dorothy Wilkinson. The chaperones were Mrs. Walter A. Montgomery, Miss Bessie Porter Taylor, Mesdames Tucker Jones, Harry L. Hundley, B. E. Moncure, N. L. Henley, Oscar L. Shewmake, K. J. Hoke, J. Leslie Hall, and J. R. Geiger.

Noted Churchmen At College

The College of William and Mary was host Friday to the Right Reverend Rennie MacInnes, Anglican Bishop of the Diocese of Jerusalem, who with Mrs. MacInnes is touring this part of America, and to Dr. Tupper, Baptist Evangelist, of Philadelphia. Both Bishop MacInnes and Dr. Tupper took lunch in the College dining hall at Dr. Chandler's invitation, and between the hours of two and three o'clock, made talks in chapel, during which time classes were suspended.

Dr. Tupper, the first speaker, who was introduced by Dr. Blocker, of the faculty, spoke quite interestingly and humorously on the subject of getting an education. Dr. Tupper also stressed the need for an educated man or woman knowing the English language, and in this connection he read some very humorous mistakes which have appeared recently in newspapers and current magazines.

Bishop MacInnes, who was introduced by Reverend E. Ruffin Jones, Rector of Bruton Parish, gave very interesting and enlightening descriptions of certain historical buildings of especial interest in Jerusalem, adding that that ancient city had not progressed with the rest of the world. In conclusion, Bishop MacInnes stressed the importance of loyalty on the part of the students to their college, their ideals, and to their God, saying that the greater things of life are not always those that glitter.

Following the speaking in chapel, Bishop MacInnes visited the Bruton Parish Church, where he presented the cause of his diocese to a large audience there assembled. A number of students were present there, as well as at the solemn and memorable exercises at Jamestown earlier in the day.

Preceding his visit to the college, Bishop MacInnes had been driven to Jamestown, where the holy communion was celebrated in the Memorial Shrine marking the spot where the Church of England was first planted in America more than three centuries ago. This service, in which was used the handsome Jamestown silver, was particularly impressing and solemn, with probably as many as fifty people participating.

Win Prizes

The Y. W. C. A. offers a Memory Book for the best yell, and a leather pillow with the College Seal on it, for the best college song, in a Song and Yell Contest which will close November 20. The Athletic Associations will act as judges. The winners of this contest will be announced in the Flat Hat two weeks from this issue.

In a slowly played and sluggish game in which penalties were as numerous as downs, William and Mary conquered Wake Forest last Saturday by the score of 18-0.

It was not that Wake Forest put up such a stiff fight, but that the William and Mary boys failed to play the game they were capable of playing or to take advantage of any of the breaks of the contest. According to comparative strength, the William and Mary team should have won by at least thirty-five points. The slow exhibition of football, however, was not without some redeeming features. Flanders' eighty-five yard run from the kick-off through the entire Baptist eleven for a touchdown, was the prettiest piece of broken field running ever seen on the Norfolk gridiron.

Cofer, an unheralded substitute halfback, got his long wished for chance in the fourth quarter. He bucked the line for gain after gain, and on the defense, he was in every play. On the line "Doc" Rangley and Paul Kiester were outstanding at all times. Opening up holes on the offense or smashing up Wake Forest plays was their specialty. Freddie Chandler entered the fray in the second period and made a very creditable showing.

Halfback Greason, for Wake Forest, was the best thing the Tarheels had. He was a good passer, runner and line smasher. He worked like another Heckman.

Fight A Plenty

Notwithstanding the frequent penalties and slowness which made the officials work harder than the players, there was plenty of fight and occasional exhibitions of good football. The North Carolinians held their own throughout the first quarter and allowed their opponents only one score in the first half.

Coach Ingram sent in all of his first string men in the second half, and for a time it seemed that they would wipe their opponents off their feet, but after the Indians had scored twice, the Wake Forest coach sent fresh substitutes into the game and the North Carolinians braced and prevented further scoring.

Indians Hold On Two Yard Line

Not only did Wake Forest prevent the Indians from further scoring, but aided by fifty yards of penalties and a fifteen-yard end run, they found themselves in possession of the pigskin on William and Mary's two-yard line.

At this time, the Indians played the brand of football that earned them the nickname of the "Fighting Southerners" at Penn State. In the four allotted downs, the Baptists could not cross the coveted goal line. Two end

Y. W. C. A. Programme Delightful

The Women demonstrated capably how to secure an attendance at a "Y" programme, when the chapel was filled to overflowing Thursday night to see "Flowers of W. & M." rendered by the Y. W. C. A.

The chapel was tastefully decorated for the occasion and was lit only by candle-light. The different "Flowers" appeared in turn from behind a pretty screen of shrubbery while a poem was being read or a musical number played representing that flower. The programme was closed by the reading of a poem by Miss Dorothy Zirkle.

The meeting, to which both boys and girls were alike invited, was then turned into a rally, Misses French and Edna Gibbons performing creditably as cheer-leaders. Coach Ingram was present and was called upon for a short talk. He spoke very frankly of the present condition of the team, emphasizing the all-importance of proper student support, and in addition threw new light on the prospects of winning the Thanksgiving game.

A number of the men-students were present and were unanimous in reporting an enjoyable time and in complimenting the girls on their efforts. As such programmes do much to enliven interest in "Y" work, it is thought that the Y. M. C. A. will follow the lead of the Y. W. by arranging similar programmes.

Women Students Have Rally

A rally by the women students was held after the Y. W. meeting last Wednesday night in chapel. Thomas Bland, Nancy French, and Edna Gibbons led the cheers, and Coach Ingram spoke. He commented on the improvement in spirit shown by the girls, and asked that this spirit be given even fuller expression throughout the football season. The singing of Alma Mater ended the rally.

Clayton-Grimes Biology Club To Meet

The Clayton-Grimes Biology Club will hold its regular meeting next Monday night, November 13th, in the Physics Lecture Room at 7:30 p. m. All students who have 10 credits in biology are invited to come and join. An interesting programme will be rendered.

CLASS IN MODERN LITERATURE STUDIES IRISH PLAYWRIGHTS

The informal study class in modern literature, conducted by Mr. Robert Blanton, is making a study of the school of Irish playwrights, which list includes Synge, Dunsany, Yeats, Lady Gregory, and Ervine.

Plans for giving a one-act play by Lady Gregory and Yeats are being discussed.

This class meets every Monday and Tuesday nights at eight o'clock. Anyone interested in modern literature is cordially invited to be present.

Adams and Reilly To Represent Philomatheans

The final try-outs for the debating team was held by the Philomathean Literary Society last Saturday evening. The subject debated was, "Resolved: That President Harding was justified in vetoing the Bonus Bill." Of the seven contestants who appeared at the first preliminary, only three were left for the final selection. All three of the debaters presented excellent arguments and the Society feels that it has a worthy team to represent it in the Freshman Contest this year. Professors Pollard, Hoke, and Feidelson served as judges in the preliminary.

Prior to the debates, Judge Feidelson made a short talk on the essential points to be observed in public speaking. He stated that the attitude of the speaker is perhaps most important, that in average speech there is a "conversational quality" which is often lacking in public speeches. By conversational quality is not meant style, tone, volume, or manner of utterance. It is the actual creating or recreating of ideas that the speaker is trying to convey. He is living intellectually the ideas he is presenting, and he must convey those ideas to his listeners. It is, in a sense, a dialogue. It contemplates the actual giving and taking of arguments. It considers the audience as able to speak back. Judge Feidelson said in closing his remarks, that above all, "You must be sincere."

KAPPA ZETAS ENTERTAIN

The members of the Kappa Zeta Sorority entertained at a delightful tea at their rooms on Saturday afternoon in compliment to their patronesses, Mrs. W. E. Etheridge, Mrs. A. G. Williams, Mrs. R. L. Morton, and Mrs. Bell, of Washington, D. C.

Senior Class Largest In History of College

There are fifty-seven seniors on the roll this year, which is the largest senior class ever registered at the College. There is little reason to think that any of these members will fail to receive their degree this year. Last year the enrollment of the class was forty-five.

Addressing the class, Dr. Chandler said, "you are the custodians of the good name of the College. The College of William and Mary is better known than any other college in America. In a sense, the eyes of the world are upon William and Mary, and this College is going to increase in the esteem of the world in just the proportion that the graduates increase in number and influence. There was once a maxim that 'might makes right.' Today that maxim is destroyed, but one has taken its place—'it is all right if you can get by with it,' and 'shrewdness makes right.' This is a horrible condition and it is your duty to attempt to correct it."

Campaign Nears End

The campaign to raise the quota of the College to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation is now rapidly drawing to a close. The committees appointed by Dr. Chandler in each of the dormitories have practically completed their canvass, and in most cases they report an encouraging willingness on the part of the students to contribute to the fund. Only 50c is being solicited from each student, as this amount will easily cover William and Mary's quota.

Virginia must quickly subscribe her allotment if she is to realize her wish of finishing second to New Jersey, which state has already completed its quota; and for that reason Miss Alsop, treasurer of the local fund, urges all students to get in their contributions as early as possible.

Indians Expect Death Struggle On Cary Field

With several important changes in the Indians' line-up, the results of tomorrow's battle are problematical. While, on paper, these changes point to a weakening of the team, it is the belief of the coaching staff that the Indians will become strengthened. Better team work has been in evidence during the past few weeks' practices.

Roanoke College has had a very successful season to date, having lost only to the strong Flying Cadets and Richmond University. Richmond's hard-earned victory came as the result of two perfect kicks from Ziegler's toe. From tackle to tackle, the Roanokers will average 196 pounds.

There is every indication of a hard fought game between two evenly matched teams when the starting whistle blows tomorrow at 2:30.

Bob Wallace's "Sea Dogs" Lose To South Norfolk High

After outplaying the high school boys in the first two periods, scoring 14 points and holding the opponents scoreless, the William and Mary Scrubs succumbed to the inroads of Smith, the speedy half-back of Monk White's native heath, and took the small end of a 21-14 score. Smith literally carried the "Sea Dogs" off their feet with seventy and eighty yard runs. It was a good, hard-fought game, and according to Wallace, the Scrubs gave a good account of themselves, when consideration is allowed for the many injuries on the team.

For the "Little Indians," Saffelle was the luminary, plunging the line and skirting the ends. This lad was always there for a good gain. Saffelle will probably get a chance with the varsity next season, and there is every indication that he will make good.

What About The Boxing Course?

Boxing, better known as "the noble science of self defense," is one of the oldest branches of sport existing. Hercules, the fabled hero of the twelve labors, is said to have drawn much pleasure and exercise from the practice of boxing.

Boxing has always been a popular sport until a comparatively recent date. However, the professional aspect of boxing has enjoyed undue emphasis.

Now that physical training is beginning to receive its proper place in the curriculum of institutions of higher learning, boxing is again coming to the front as an amateur sport. And if, as many contend, there is a tendency toward feminism among our men, amateur boxing will do more to halt and eradicate that evil than any other branch of sports.

From a simple physical point of view, boxing is probably superior to all other sports.

Every muscle in the body is exercised in boxing. Good form in boxing means control of every muscle and security of perfect poise. The practice of boxing eliminates awkwardness, clumsiness, and adds agility, correctness of posture, and force to character. The most pitiful sight imaginable is to see a two-fisted man, who has the mental ability to do great things but fails because of the lack of physical force and courage. Yet we see just such men all around us. "No personality," we say. Were those people always that way? Have not many of them allowed their personalities to become submerged through lack of attention? Personalities are cultivated as well as inborn. What was the cry of that speech over the country after the war?

It was: "Give us a two-fisted man, a fighter, a man of action, physical as well as mental, who can guide us out of the chaos of reconstruction." It is easy to see why Teddy Roosevelt was so popular.

Try a little introspection and see if you don't think boxing will benefit you. The students of the larger institutions are going into boxing in large numbers, and it can be only a matter of time when every college that has a basketball team will have a boxing team. The department of physical education, recognizing this need, is offering a course in boxing at William and Mary.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC COUNCIL ELECTS FACULTY ADVISER

Mr. Lee Tucker Jones has been unanimously elected faculty adviser on the Women's Athletic Council at a meeting of the Women's Athletic Association last Wednesday night. At the same time, the Association unanimously voted that the Director of Women's Athletics be a permanent member of the council. Miss Thelma Brown is the director for this year.

Misses Thomas Bland, Nancy French, and Edna Gibbons have been elected cheer leaders. Rallies will be held every Wednesday night after Y. W. meetings.

Thanksgiving Day Game

The Monogram Club, in anticipation of the Thanksgiving Day game in Richmond with the University of Richmond, is co-operating with certain organizations of the University in a proposition of first class "score cards" for distribution at the game. The cards will show the names of the players and their respective numbers.

"George kissed me twice and three times the other night."

"Pshaw, that's nothing for George."

Here And There

* * *

At a get-together meeting on Monday afternoon, the members of the varsity squad decided that more spirit of self-sacrifice and more cooperation is needed on the field of battle. The result of this meeting should have its effect on the showing of the team tomorrow.

* * *

The following is the opinion of the "Greensboro Daily News" on last Saturday's conflict. "Wake Forest, fighting on alien territory at Norfolk, Virginia, against William and Mary, one of the best minor leaguers of the Old Dominion, was unable to annex a single point. Although William and Mary lost to Penn State and V. P. I. the Virginia pigskin carriers have been cleaning up everything in their own class ever since. The Baptists were not a match for the William and Mary eleven and the better team came through with its share of the glory tagged on their breasts."

* * *

Alabama's clean cut victory over Pennsylvania, conquerers of the Navy and hitherto undefeated this year, brought joy to the whole Southland.

Saturday's contest, although mediocre as a whole, brought to light some unexpected strength in the person of Cofer and Kiester. Cofer, seizing his first chance of the season to make good, ripped the opposing line for several line gains on the offense, and tackled like a fiend on the defense. He will probably get a chance tomorrow to show whether his Saturday's exhibition was merely a flash or his regular stride.

Kiester, at tackle, although rather light for that position, makes up for his lack of weight with speed and aggressiveness. His versatile playing Saturday was a feature.

George Flander's spectacular eighty-five yard run for a touchdown and his generalship during the third quarter, was noteworthy and brought the only smile that was seen on Coach Ingram's face during the game.

* * *

"Doc" Rangley, the hefty guard from Christiansburg, broke up the Baptist offensive whenever they came his way. The big fellow is just too much for most of them.

* * *

House, who has been out with an injury to his ear, will probably be seen in tomorrow's game. He is a "Never say quit" fighter.

* * *

It's the stuff behind the team that sweeps the field.

We've twisted the Tiger's tail; what about pulling off the Spider's legs?

PROHIBITION

Do American Universities believe in prohibition?

As a result of repeated requests from foreign countries for an unbiased and reliable statement of the feeling of American Universities, the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association conducted a nation-wide survey last March, which revealed some interesting facts. The question, "What do the faculty and students think of prohibition in theory and in fact," was put to every college and university president in the United States, 158 presidents in forty States answering as follows: Favorable, 136 institutions with 142,000 students; unfavorable eight, with 160,000 students; and favorable to theory, but unfavorable to present law four, with 2,000 students. From such facts as these we are forced to the conclusion that the leaders of tomorrow and their institutions are, and will, endorse prohibition.

WHY NOT MUSICAL RECITALS?

Would you like to hear a really classic musical recital? The College has provided means for recreation in many lines, it has brought to us eloquent speakers and men of note; but it has done nothing to develop cultural life in the form of art and music. There are many students who hunger for an evening of musical enjoyment, and would support any effort to bring to the College a talented singer or musician.

It is not worth while to develop artistic appreciation? Is not the appreciation of classic music as vital as the knowledge of literature in a cultural education? Yet, even outside the classic field, there is almost no opportunity for the students to have an evening of music.

To a certain extent, the girls may have such entertainment for their dormitories are provided with social rooms, and pianos or victrolas. The men, however, have no place where they may go for amusement without spending money. It is possible for them to go to the moving picture show, to the pool room, or to some other place which largely entails a waste of time and an expenditure of money.

It is not the purpose of a college to furnish free entertainment of all kinds. It is not desired that the College should become solely a place of recreation. But the College should endeavor to give its students every possible advantage in arts which are cultural and which develop the aesthetic senses.

The Y. M. C. A. has attempted to remedy this lamentable condition by opening a social and recreation room for the men where they might spend a few minutes in friendly association and enjoy music and games. The Y. has a Victrola, but no place to put it. Rooms have been promised the Y. for the past three years; but, thus far, the authorities have ignored all such promises.

We trust that it will only be necessary to mention these facts to those in charge. The students want an opportunity to have cultural music. The Y. can not exist without a home.

ARMISTICE DAY

Tomorrow is November 11th, a date that will never be forgotten in the history of the world. It is eminently fitting that we should pause in our rush through life to recall the significance of this memorable day. It was the day when nations, weary of bloodshed, weary of suffering, weary of a torturous and cruel war, laid down their weapons and turned with haggard but hopeful faces to a new day, to a dawn of peace. But four years have passed. And the millennium has not yet arrived. But man has profited by his bitter experience and has turned every effort to the prevention of more war, and the establishment of a new order around which the nations of men may gather to share the benefits of peaceful brotherhood.

The khaki no longer colors our streets and the discarded uniform hangs upon its hook. The former stalwart soldier goes about his civilian business, but the people of America have not forgotten him. They remember the sacrifices he made for them, for his country, and for his ideals; they remember his courage and fortitude, and his willingness to offer his life on the holy altar of democracy. The whole nation pauses for five minutes tomorrow, from 11 to 11:05 a. m., to offer thanks to God for the soldiers who returned to us and to pay tribute to those who gave their lives for America. Let us not forget to offer thanks unto God for the soldiers of America—and of her allies.

DO YOU BELONG TO A LITERARY SOCIETY?

Of the Activities Fee which every student pays upon matriculating, $2.00 is for membership dues in the literary society which the student may elect to join. No further dues or assessments are made, the fee entitling every student to full membership. However, not 50% of the students have availed themselves of the opportunity offered.

It is not here necessary to dwell upon the obvious benefits of active participation in literary society work—suffice it to say that no more worthy or beneficial student activity can be found. Doubtless the meetings are dull, but only because not enough people take interest in them. There is a wealth of material on the campus, and the unfortunate part is that it is not being more fully developed.

The Freshman Contest, to be held on November 24th, will reveal to some extent what is being accomplished. As usual, the Freshmen are showing by far the greatest interest in the work.

Doubtless when a public speaking class is begun, membership and active participation in a literary society will be the prerequisite to enrollment.

Sigma Upsilon Has
New Members

At the regular meeting of Sigma Upsilon Literary Fraternity held in the Journalism Room Friday night, Dr. W. A. Montgomery and Professor Blanton were initiated as honorary members. Judge C. N. Feidelson, who has also been elected to honorary membership, was not present, due to an extension class which he had in Newport News.

While no regular programme had been prepared, there was no dearth of round-table discussion of things literary. The fraternity also elected Mr. E. B. Moffitt to its ranks.

The time of the meeting was changed for the present to Monday night, at 7:30, the next meeting being set for Monday, November 20th; and three members were designated to prepare a programme for that meeting.

In Memoriam

"Foch" is dead. No more will he freely roam on the campus of the College. Never again will he unceremoniously appear at the spirited demonstrations of the students; nevertheless will he be the unnoticed listener of sparking couples.

He has gone to a much better land where flowers bloom, where the sun is bright, and where he will be immune from the kicks and knocks of this cruel, cruel world. "Foch" was an optimist. His cheerful countenance was never darkened by the shadow of trouble or adversity. He saw only the good in man.

There was no impressive funeral ceremony; no mourners whose grief was inconsolable; yet all students who know "Foch" keenly feel his loss and regret his departure from their midst. He has gone from our lives as he came into them, a friend and a silent companion.

"Foch" has no escutcheon engraved with enviable war records. He has no degrees of any kind, despite his long attendance at the College of William and Mary. He left no vast estate and nothing but faith in the world and an undying love of mankind.

If those who didn't know "Foch" should ask any upper-classman who he was, they will receive this answer: "He was Mr. Bridge's little terrier."

Prof. Zehmer
At Columbia

Professor Baskerville Zehmer is attending the National Country Life Association convention which is being held at Columbia University. He is there as a representative of the College of William and Mary.

Mr. Zehmer was formerly a graduate student at Columbia, receiving his M. A. there.

RADIO LECTURE TONIGHT

Dr. R. C. Young, of the College faculty, will give an illustrated lecture on the radio tonight at 8 p. m. in the High School auditorium. This lecture is being given under the auspices of the Education and Civic Association, which extends a most cordial invitation to the faculty and students of the College to be present.

Judge De Vries Leaves
U. S. Customs' Court

When President Harding on November first accepted the resignation of Judge Marion De Vries, as presiding judge of the U. S. Court of Customs Appeals, he called attention to the fact that the government was losing its greatest legal authority on the tariff.

Appointed by President McKinley twenty-two years ago as a member of the Board of U. S. General Appraisers, Judge De Vries has since served the government under every succeeding president. From 1906 to 1910 he was president of the Board. President Roosevelt sent him to Europe to investigate the customs administrative laws in France, Germany and England. In 1909 at the request of the Senate Finance Committee and President Taft, Judge De Vries drafted the customs administrative provisions of that act. He originated the U. S. Court of Customs Appeals and drafted the first bill creating it.

During the recent sessions of Congress Judge De Vries, at the request of Chairman McCumber of the Senate Finance Committee and Chairman Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee drafted the flexible tariff provisions of the present tariff law. Not only these two legislators but the President regard him as the "father" of the administrative sections of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act.

Judge De Vries resigned a life-time appointment on the bench to practice law in association with Thomas J. Doherty, for many years assistant counsel for the government in the prosecution of customs cases.

Prof. Gooch
Receives M. A.

Mr. Robert K. Gooch, who was a professor at William and Mary for two years, has been awarded the degree of Master of Arts by Oxford University.

The Master of Arts degree at Oxford is purely an honorary title conferred upon those students who have made excellent marks on their work and who have been at Oxford for a certain length of time.

Woman's Student Government Organization
Amends Constitution

Important amendments to the Constitution were passed at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Student Government Organization, Monday, November 6th. The first amendment gives the vote to House Presidents, and the second changes the date of election of officers from April to March. Installation of officers will take place in April instead of May.

The Fire Chief, Winifred Tinsley, outlined the plans for fire drill, and announced the names of Fire Lieutenants in the different dormitories.

Mrs. Mumford, who had promised to address the meeting, was unable to be present.

CONGRATULATIONS TO LITERARY MAGAZINE STAFF

The Staff of the Literary Magazine is to be congratulated upon the splendid issue of the magazine. The first number is always the most difficult to publish, however, the Staff has kept the October issue up to the usual high standard. In fact, a number of improvements have been made both in the style and appearance of the magazine, and in the more cosmopolitan character of the articles.

Brackety-Ack — Twenty-five candidates for the debating team have reported, and it has been decided to organize a class in debating in preparation for the contests. The class will make an intensive study of the technique of debating with Dr. Huffman, of the English department, as instructor.

The White Topper — Outside work on the new Gymnasium is practically completed and the inside work is going on rapidly so that within a few weeks the students of Emory and Henry will have as good facilities for gymnastic and athletic development as any one need wish for.

* *

Brackety-Ack — Roanoke College now has a thoroughly modern radio installation. Concerts may be received every night and heard all over the large room in which the set is installed.

The Tiger — The Hampden-Sidney student body, with the concurrence of the faculty, has voted for a three-day holiday Thanksgiving.

The Mississippi — The students of "Ole Miss" have presented the Athletic Association with blankets for the use of the athletic teams.

* * *

Emory Wheel — Students of Emory University have adopted walking canes as a part of the proper dress of a senior.

Freshmen at Emory University have organized a Dumb-bell Club. To be eligible for membership the candidate must show that he has received marks worthy of a dumb-bell on the first English quiz. It is reported that seventy-five per cent of the class will be admitted.

Johns Hopkins University has been offered the use of the radio broadcasting station of the Baltimore News. On Thursday and Saturday nights the various musical organizations of the University will be permitted to render selections. Results of athletic contests will be broadcasted. In addition to this it is probable that from time to time professors will lecture on subjects of common interest.

An interesting marriage was held at Westhampton College week when the Junior Class agreed to honor and support the Freshman Class throughout the remainder of the year. Each Junior selected her Freshman and they were married by the presidents of the class. The union of these classes is an annual event at Westhampton.

Phi Beta Kappa Building In 1926

Dr. Crawford Believes Funds Will Be Raised And Building Completed In 4 Years

It is the belief of Dr. Crawford, president-emeritus of Alleghany College, Meadville, Pa., that the Phi Beta Kappa building, proposed to be erected at William and Mary by that fraternity in celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its founding, will be completed by the end of 1926. It will be recalled that the Phi Beta Kappa, at its meeting at Cleveland some months ago, took action to make this memorial possible, and Dr. Crawford thinks it will be possible to carry through every plan made.

Dr. Crawford was in Williamsburg a few days ago to visit William and Mary while on his way South for the winter. While here he secured certain information as to the proposed building over which he expressed an unusual interest. He is an enthusiastic Phi Beta Kappa and will be found working hard to make the plans of the order materialize. He said that he thought the various chapters throughout the country would subscribe liberally to the fund to be created.

Alleghany College is one of the oldest in the country and Dr. Crawford, who is past seventy, naturally feels a deep interest in William and Mary because of its antiquity, having been president of one of the older institutions of learning. He was deeply impressed with what he saw at the College as well as with the historical places in Williamsburg.

The proposed Phi Beta Kappa building is to cost $100,000 and is to be one of the handsomest of the group on the campus. The society will be 150 years old December 5, 1926, and the occasion will be celebrated by the dedication of the proposed memorial at the spot where Phi Beta Kappa was born.

Government Classes Hold Election

Realizing the need for practical lessons in government, Dr. Pollard held a mock election in the Virginia Government classes Tuesday, November 7th.

Acting as judge, Dr. Pollard appointed the electoral boards, which in turn appointed the clerks and judges of the election. Members of the classes were considered duly registered and supplied with ballots.

Before the election, members of the classes argued the question of calling a Constitutional Convention. Good arguments were presented by both sides, but those against the Convention had the better case.

Senator Swanson and Mr. Montague overwhelmingly carried the election. The vote on the Convention was: For 12, against 96.

By Shortfellow

On the shores of Lake Matoaca
(Often known as Jones' Mill Pond),
By the muddy little frog-pond
Cut by bays and coves and inlets,
Arose one night the sound of paddling—

Not a canoe, let me assure you,
Propelled along the murky waters;
Nor either, still, a beaver's tail-piece
As it is wont to slap the water
To sound a warning note of danger—
No, none of these was this I sing of;
For 'twas a sound to make one shud-

Especially the great Supreme Court,
The punishment attendant thereto,
The thousand other pains and tortures

Suffered one's Freshman year at College.

But as I started out to tell you,
It was a splitting noise of paddles—
Broken across a trembling he-goat
Prostrate in silent supplication,
A neophyte at "Nullo's" altar,
The newest club of noisy "Nothings."

No cause of grief, as I can see it—
This breaking up of stalwart firewood—

For though no gain has e'er resulted,
No loss has e'er been experienced:
When gathered up and burned, the paddles

Lasted the club a month as fire-wood;
So wood and neophytes departed
From "out of nowhere into nothing."

International Student Conference, Toronto

An important International Student Conference will be held at Toronto, Canada, November 24-29.
Representative student delegates are expected from colleges and universities of Canada and the United States, from among the students of foreign lands attending these colleges, and also from other countries.

The Conference, called by the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association
as the student department of the World League Against Alcoholism, has for its object the support of prohibition in North America and the establishing of friendly connections with students, student agencies and universities in other lands in the growing struggle against alcoholism throughout the world. The Conference occurs in connection with the Convention of the World League to which delegates from many lands are coming. An attendance of 3,000 or more is expected.

Students who attend will have opportunity to hear the speakers, both of the Student Conference and of the World League Convention. Among the speakers who will have messages especially for students may be included Dr. C. W. Saleeby, of London; Dr.
Robert Herod, of Lausanne, Switzerland; Professor August Ley, of the University of Brussels, Belgium; Dr.
C. C. Weeks, of London, who is President of the World Student Federation against Alcoholism; Mr. Tarini Prasad Sinha, of India; Dr. Ira Land-rith, President of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association; Mr. Harry S.
Warner, General Secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.
Other noted speakers will be present from Europe, South Africa and Australia. There will also be student Conferences by nationalities;

dinners; demonstrations; "stunts";
exhibits and other interesting features.

Addition To Power Plant

The large addition to the College power plant is progressing rapidly and will probably be ready before any real cold weather. An additional boiler is being installed so that the heating capacity of the plant will soon be nearly doubled.

"The Paul Jones," given by the Y. W. in the gymnasium Saturday night, was an enjoyable affair. This manner of becoming better acquainted proved such a success that it is hoped that the Y. W. and Y. M. will arrange such gatherings all through the year.

"Lucky Curve"

Means Leakproof Feed

How Parker Pens put Capillary Attraction to actual use

IF EVER an instructor asks you to name a practical use of the scientific principle of capillary attraction—just cite the Parker Pen with its leakproof "Lucky Curve" feed.

All fountain pen makers were baffled for years by the so-called "sweating" of pens. Inked fingers still cause many complaints except from those who use Parker Pens.

For Geo. S. Parker solved the problem by inventing the "Lucky Curve" illustrated above. It forms a contact with the wall of the ink barrel—and no matter how much ink surrounds it the capillary attraction regulates the flow—it is steady; even and positive at all times.

This is one of the cardinal reasons that the Parker Pen is in such high favor with educators and student bodies. A pen that's a help—not a distraction—when one is concentrating the mind on study or instruction.

To all students—

Come and try the Parker at the pen counter designated below—try several points to find just the right degree for your individual hand.

Prices start as low as $2.50 notwithstanding that all Parker Pens have 14 K rolled gold points that cannot rust, corrode or tarnish, and all are made with the same jeweler's accuracy and finish as the famous 25-year Parker Duofold—the lacquer-red pen that at $7 became America's leader in less than a year from its introduction.

The older students know we welcome their coming to try Parker Pens whether they buy or not—and we feel the same way toward the freshmen.

Remove the screw-cap, press the button and the Parker drinks its fill. No exposed lever to catch on clothing and spill ink.

Phoenicians Hold Preliminaries Tonight

The regular meeting of the Phoenix Literary Society last Saturday evening was given entirely to Freshmen readers and declaimers for the purpose of selecting men to represent the Phoenix Society in the Freshman Contest which is to be held on November 24th. However, owing to the absence of several Freshmen who intended to take part, the preliminaries will be continued tonight (Friday) at 7:15 p. m. Every Freshman is urged to come out and try for a place as reader, or as declaimer. Any Freshman member of the Society may take part in any or all of the preliminaries for reading, declamation, oration, or debate, provided he has not already been selected for one of these branches of the contest.

The preliminary try out for debate will take place tomorrow night at 7:15. All men who wish to take part and who have not yet made known their intention of doing so, are urged to see Mr. A. J. Winder at once for information and material.

All together, Freshmen, for a good start towards a successful contest and the beginning of greater things in our literary societies.

runs were smothered on the line of scrimmage, and Chandler and Kiester broke through the line and tackled the runner for losses, all of which clearly demonstrated that the Indians were superior to the North Carolinians.

The Scoring

In the second quarter William and Mary pushed over its first counter. The Indians gained possession of the oval on the forty-six yard line. Hastings bucked the line for three yards, White made a yard by an end run. The Indians drew a fifteen-yard penalty for holding. Charles heaved a pass to Hastings which netted twelve yards. Wake Forest was penalized five yards for being off side, giving the Indians a first down.

Irwin skirted right end for eight yards and Hastings made a first down through tackle. The ball was now on the twenty-yard line and Hastings made another first down through tackle. Irwin and White added seven yards more and Hastings plunged the remaining distance to the goal for the first score of the conflict. He missed the kick for the extra point.

The second period started with the Indians receiving. Flanders received the kick on his fifteen-yard line and, aided by perfect interference, raced through the entire Baptist eleven for William and Mary's second touch-down. Hastings missed the goal.

On the next kick-off, Levvy received the ball on his own thirty-five yard line and brought it back to the Baptists' forty-yard line. Hastings smashed through center for five yards. Levvy added seven yards off tackle and a first down. Levvy made a sweeping end run for twenty yards. Monk White made seven yards off tackle and Hastings made a first down on a line plunge.

Hastings plunged through the line twice for a first down and, after two unsuccessful attempts to gain through the line, Levvy, through a beautiful pass to Flanders over the line for the final score. White failed to kick the extra point.

The Indians had several more opportunities to score but wasted them by sluggish playing and incurring penalties. The game ended with the ball in the center of the field.

Pictures At Palace Theatre This Week

4:00, 7:30 and 9:00 O'clock

MONDAY

Alice Lake in "Woman's Hate," will be the star on the silver sheet for Monday. Miss Lake plays the part of a woman who suddenly turns upon the cruelty and ungratefulness of the world and tries to avenge the wrongs of men.

The latest release of Fox News will also be shown.

TUESDAY

"Ace of Hearts," a Gouverneur Morris story, is Tuesday's feature at the Palace Theatre. The "Ace of Hearts" has appeared in all of the leading magazines and it is estimated that over twenty million people have read the story.

A Snub Pollard comedy will be the added attraction.

WEDNESDAY

Mae Murray and Rudolph Valentino are the co-stars in "The Delicious Little Devil," Wednesday's attraction. In this picture Valentino has gone from his usual dramatic role to that of a care free young man.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY

The two-day feature for the week will be Cecil B. DeMille's picture, "Fool's Paradise." The cast includes Dorothy Dalton, Conrad Nagel, Mildred Harris, Theodore Kosloff and Julia Faye. It is one of De Mille's best productions and has a powerful dramatic appeal.

SATURDAY

Tom Mix, the stellar portrayer of Western roles, has proven his versatility in his latest picture, "Just Tony."

In this production Mix is seen in the character of an Italian immigrant. Tom again demonstrates his ability as an athlete and a scrapper. A comedy will also be shown.
